SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY:

Petter Brandt

Master Mariner at Kalmar Maritime Academy, Sweden, 1997.

Petter is passionate about sailing, particularly traditional ships and the navigation techniques and seamanship associated with that. His career at sea could be said to have started at age 15 on the gaff ketch "SARPEN" of Simrishamn, built 1892, since 1962 used as a sail training ship operated by the Boy Scout organization of his home town.

Before joining Stolt Tankers in late 2006 he alternated for a few years between sailing, mainly on tankers, and working at Kalmar Maritime Academy as lecturer covering among other things Navigation, Seamanship, Shiphandling and Navigational Instruments and Systems, spending quite a lot of time as instructor in its state-of-the-art bridge simulators.
